Commissioner for Patents

PD

When an applicant presents a claim, which corresponds exactly or substantially to a claim of a patent or patent application publication, the applicant shall identify the patent or patent application publication and the number of the patent claim, unless the claim is presented in response to a suggestion by the examiner. If an applicant, attorney, or agent presents a claim corresponding exactly or substantially to a patent or patent application publication claim without complying with 41.202(a), the examiner may be led into making an action different from what would have been made had the examiner been in possession of all the facts.

Claims 1-7 of this application have apparently been copied from claims 1-28 of U.S. patent application publication 2002/0114265 A1 without being suggested by the examiner. The patent application publication number and the number of the copied claims have not been properly identified. See 37 CFR 41.202(a); see also MPEP 2307.05.

Claims 8-13 of this application have apparently been copied from claims 1-28 of U.S. patent application publication 2002/0120854 A1 without being suggested by the examiner. The patent application publication number and the number of the copied claims have not been properly identified. See 37 CFR 41.202(a); see also MPEP 2307.05.

Claims 14-18 of this application have apparently been copied from claims 1-5 of U.S. patent application publication 2002/0144153 A1 without being suggested by the examiner. The patent application publication number and the number of the copied claims have not been properly identified. See 37 CFR 41.202(a); see also MPEP 2307.05.

Claims 19 and 20 of this application have apparently been copied from claims 1 and 56 of U.S. patent application publication 2003/0046545 A1 without being suggested by the examiner.

Art Unit: 2131

The patent application publication number and the number of the copied claims have not been properly identified. See 37 CFR 41.202(a); see also MPEP 2307.05.

Applicant is required to identify the patent application publication numbers and claim numbers and supply information explaining why a complete identification of the copied patent application publication claims has not been presented. Following applicant's reply to this requirement or the abandonment thereof, this application will be forwarded by the examiner to the Office of the Commissioner for Patents for appropriate review as noted under 37 CFR 41.202(a).

The Applicant is reminded that a practitioner shall not engage in disreputable or gross misconduct, which includes, but is not limited to, knowingly withholding from the Office information identifying a patent or patent application of another from which one or more claims have been copied. See 37 CFR 10.23(a)(7).

Conclusion

Applicant is given a TIME PERIOD of ONE MONTH or THIRTY DAYS, whichever is longer, from the mailing date of this communication for reply to avoid abandonment of this application.
